Finding an Entrance to the Georgia State University Library (Atlanta campus)

You can enter either building (Library North or Library South) to get to your meeting room. A bridge (“The Link”) over Decatur Street connects the two buildings. To enter Library South, use either entrance from the sidewalk on the south side of Decatur St. The Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning is on the first floor. To enter the Library, you will need to use the elevator or stairs down the hall and to the left to get to the 2nd fl. There are lots of ways to enter Library North, but none of them are particularly easy to find. Probably the easiest is to use the stairway under the pedestrian bridge between Library North and Langdale Hall. Alternately, you can enter Langdale Hall from Peachtree Center Ave, go up the steps (or elevator) and straight through. Either way you will be in Library Plaza, and can then proceed to the Library North entrance.

We strongly recommend walking, using public transportation, or taking a cab/ride share (both Uber and Lyft are available in Atlanta) to get to downtown. Parking can be a hassle. If you require parking, please let us know at least two days in advance so we can alert personnel at the G Deck (cost is $7 per day).
